'Sexual predators' handed jail terms

By Jack Johnson

TWO men sexually assaulted a teenage girl, before another threatened to shoot her if she told the police, Oxford Crown Court heard last week.

The 17-year-old girl was sexually assaulted at a property in Cowley Road, Oxford, on December 17, 2011.

Bilal Ahmed, 27, of Suffolk Road, Maidenhead, was sentenced to three and a half years imprisonment after being found guilty by jury of one count of sexual assault.

His cousin Zeeshan Ahmed, 28, formerly of Palmer Road, Wood Farm, Oxford, was sentenced to 18 months' imprisonment for perverting the course of justice.

A third man, Mustafa Ahmed, 26, of Harrow Road, London, pleaded guilty to one count of sexual assault on May 30 and was jailed for 18 months last Friday.

Bilal and Mustafa Ahmed were arrested at the end of last year as part of Operation Bullfinch, Thames Valley Police's sexual exploitation investigation.

Oxford Crown Court heard that Zeeshan Ahmed threatened the teenager when he heard the allegations.

Last week's verdicts came at the end of a two and a half week trial.

Operation Bullfinch senior investigating officer Det Supt Joe Kidman said: "I would like to commend the courage of this brave young woman who gave evidence against the men who committed these serious sexual assaults on her when she was a child.

"We will continue to work closely with Social Services to support victims, whatever their age now and whenever it was that the abuse occurred."

Adrian Foster, chief crown prosecutor for Thames and Chiltern Crown Prosecution Service (CPS) said: "The abuse this girl was subjected to was truly appalling.

"No-one, let alone a child, should ever be exploited as this young victim was.

"The men are nothing less than vicious sexual predators."

Oxford celebrates 20 years of women priests

HUNDREDS of people gathered at Oxford's Christ Church Cathedral last Saturday, for a celebration of 20 years of women priests.

Reverend Rose Hudson Wilkin, chaplain to the Speaker of the House of Commons, led the thanksgiving service at the city's cathedral during the morning.

The service featured a performance from Ballet Rambert, followed by a panel discussion at St Mary the Virgin Church on High Street, which pointed out the next Bishop of Oxford could be a woman.

Revd Liz Johnson, who was one of the first woman to be ordained in the country, attended Saturday's event.

She said: "The highlight of the day was the inspiring preaching by Rose Hudson Wilkin.

"I've also been moved by how much support we have from both men and women."

Director of Ordinands at the Diocese of Oxford, Revd Dr Amanda Bloor, added: "I feel the day has gone brilliantly.

"It's good to see a range of people looking back and remembering, but also looking forward to what will happen in the future."

Donate your bra to raise money

OXFORD: A city bar is asking women to donate their bras to raise money for children living in one of Rio de Janeiro's poorest slums ahead of the start of the World Cup.

Lola Lo, on Magdalen Street, are accepting lingerie in any condition, with recycled garments raising £1 per kilo for charity.

Donations will be accepted for four weeks, starting from Saturday.

Wallet stolen in home burglary

HEADINGTON: A woman in her 80s had her wallet stolen from her house in a distraction burglary last Friday.

At around 10am, the victim answered her door to a man, who said he was her next door neighbour's gardener and asked for a pen and paper to leave a message.

After he left, the woman noticed her wallet was missing, which contained cash and various cards.

Anyone with information is asked to call 101.

Prom aims to inspire children

OXFORD: This year's Patsy Wood Family Prom returns to the Jacqueline Du Pré Music Building, on Iffley Road, this Sunday.

Led by performer Mark Hooper, the prom aims to inspire young children to learn about music and instruments.

It starts at 11am, and tickets are available on the day or by calling the Oxford Playhouse box office on 01865 305305.

Celebrating a greener way of living

OXFORDSHIRE is marking Recycle Week with a number of environmentally friendly events taking place across the county from Saturday.

It is an annual celebration promoted by the county council and Oxfordshire's five district councils to commend the recycling efforts from the area.

David Nimmo Smith, the county council's cabinet member for environment and economy, said: "Oxfordshire is at the top of the league when it comes to recycling and reducing household waste.

"But Recycle Week is about pushing the message that there is always something extra you can do in a fun and informative way.

"You can also find out a bit more about where your waste goes and the innovative things that are done to stop it simply going into landfill."

In Oxford, a recycling roadshow is being held at the Westgate Shopping Centre on Monday from 10am to 4pm.

Community Action Groups in Oxford will also be hosting a drop-in bike fixing workshop at The Story Museum, on Pembroke Street, on June 21.

And on the same day, a swap shop is taking place at Gladstone Road Community Centre in Headington, as well as a cooking with leftovers demonstration at the Hill End Centre, and a Master Composters stall in Wolvercote. More information about events can be found at oxfordshire.gov.uk.

Residents splashed with paint for first colour run

• From front page

Runners were streaked in different coloured paints as they jogged around the course.

Taking part was Suzanne Watts from Witney and her three daughters - 11-year-old Amy, and twins Jasmine and Ceara, eight.

The twin sons of Suzanne's brother-in-law Mike Illingworth, Ollie and Ben, were both born with a life-shortening condition and have been visiting Helen & Douglas House for the past seven years.

Ben died in 2012, but Ollie is now 12-years-old and regularly visits the hospice for respite care.

Suzanne said: "We are great supporters and have all visited in the past.

"It is an amazing and beautiful space for children and parents alike.

She added: "This is the first time I have been involved in one of the Helen & Douglas House fun runs and this one is particularly great as I was able to do it with our three girls.

"We all really enjoyed the rainbow run. It was great fun and wonderful to see everyone smiling."

Also taking part in the run was Sian Davies, 16, from Wantage, who is also cared for at the hospice.

By Adam Flinn

jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Sian has congenital heart disease and lung problems, and is in a wheelchair much of the time. She managed to walk the final yards across the finish line.

She said: "I was really excited about taking part in the rainbow run and really enjoyed the paint being thrown at me.

"It was great fun, just like coming to Helen House."

Poppy Hanbury, activities fundraiser from Helen & Douglas House, said: "It was a fantastic day. The sun shone and everyone had great fun getting covered in paint all the colours of the rainbow.

"I would like to extend a big thank you to all our runners, our volunteers, paint point sponsors and everyone who helped put on this event."

Bus fire and fuel spill hit drivers with long A40 delays

DRIVERS faced lengthy delays last Friday after a bus caught fire on the A40 between Wheatley and Headington.

Fire crews were called just before 4pm to the Oxford-bound carriageway, where the bus had stopped shortly before the Thornhill Park and Ride.

The driver had pulled over and evacuated everyone from the bus.

No-one was injured in the fire.

Watch manager Mark Keely said: "I would like to thank the bus driver for his quick thinking and prompt actions to evacuate the bus prior to our arrival."

And on Sunday, the London-bound carriageway of the A40 was closed for several hours following a collision between a car and two lorries.

The fuel tank of one of the lorries was damaged in the incident, resulting in about 500 litres of diesel being spilt across both lanes of the carriageway.

A 53-year-old man was arrested following the collision, and charged with five separate offences on Monday, including dangerous driving and driving when above the alcohol limit.

The man, from London, was bailed to appear at Oxford Magistrates' Court on June 24.

The seats will be unreserved but can be bought as a season ticket.

Kennington interchange project is underway

WORK has begun on turning Kennington interchange into a hamburger roundabout.

The county council have invested more than £6m of City Deal funding into the project, which also includes traffic-flow improvement measures at Hinksey Hill interchange and the refurbishment of four bridges.

It is hoped that work at the Kennington interchange will increase capacity at the junction by 30 per cent..

However, work is expected to continue until November and could cause traffic problems at the junctions, which are already used by 60,000 vehicles a day.

At Kennington Roundabout, a new carriageway for eastbound traffic will go through the central island, while the roundabout will be widened for westbound traffic heading towards the A34.

The Hinksey Hill Interchange will include a new slip-road from the Southern Bypass onto the A34, and will remove the need for traffic to stop at the lights.

The four bridges between Heyford Hill and Hinksey Hill will also be resurfaced as part of the project.

Haye steps into the ring in Pools battle

FORMER heavyweight boxing champion David Haye has put his weight behind the campaign to save Temple Cowley Pools (TCP).

The world-famous 33-year-old, known as 'The Hayemaker', signed the petition earlier this week.

Oxford City Council made a decision to close Temple Cowley Pools and Fitness Centre in 2011, planning to build a replacement pool in Blackbird Leys.

Work on the £9.2million complex in Pegasus Road, which will have three pools, began in July last year.

Mr Haye, who became heavyweight champion in 2009, joined friends and campaigners Salman Naqvi and Faisal Aziz in declaring his support for Temple Cowley Pools earlier this week.

"I want to lend my support to my friends Salman Naqvi and Faisal Aziz in their assistance to the group 'Save Temple Cowley Swimming Pools and Fitness Centre'," he said.

"I have signed the petition and believe that the council should take note of the concerns of local residents in Cowley and further afield about losing their leisure centre.

"I back this campaign and hope this valuable facility remains open to the public for many years to come."

By Jack Johnson

jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Mr Naqvi, who is on the campaign team, added: "The people of Cowley have spoken and in case no one in the council has listened, a world renowned heavyweight boxer has spoken too.

"Our voice will reverberate as a manifestation of disgruntlement and will not stop until there is an acknowledgement that Temple Cowley Swimming Pools is here to stay."

Save TCP have until October 7 to put together a bid to keep the Temple Road site open, as well as incorporating the closed Barns Road Community Centre in Cowley.

Nigel Gibson, who leads the campaign, added: "It's absolutely fantastic news that David Haye supports the campaign.

"Everybody's support makes a difference, not just the community but clearly high profile figures.

"David Haye is well known for his general support for sport and encouraging people to take it up as a way of staying fit.

"We very much welcome the support he is giving us."

Boost for social entrepreneurs

A NEW partnership set up to provide funding to local social entrepreneurs is due to be launched in the autumn.

The Oxfordshire Social Entrepreneurship Partnership (OSEP) is made up of Oxford Brookes University, the University of Oxford and Student Hubs, and aims to support potential business tycoons in the region.

OSEP secured more than £100,000 of funding following a joint pitch to social entrepreneur network UnLtd for the project.

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Its work will be based on the existing components of the two universities' social entrepreneurship programmes, and will be made available to their staff, students and recent graduates.

John Raftery, pro-vice chancellor for student experience at Oxford Brookes, said: "The possibilities that OSEP can create for Oxfordshire and its community are endless.

"Innovation and a vision for social innovation in Oxford are high on the Brookes' agenda, and we are pleased to take a leading role together with our partners.

"OSEP will be poised to reap all the rewards that seeding social enterprise can create."

Professor Andrew Hamilton, vice-chancellor at the University of Oxford, added: "So many of our students do such important and creative work in social enterprise, which is of great benefit to the local community.

"We are delighted to work with Oxford Brookes and Student Hubs to support social enterprises and encourage new initiatives."

UnLtd's judges were unanimous in their support for OSEP, describing the Oxfordshire bid as one of the strongest received.

Eight regional clusters were offered funding by UnLtd, with Oxfordshire receiving the highest single amount awarded.

NHS executive named as one of 10 best in the UK

THE chief executive of Oxford Health NHS Foundation Trust has been named as one of the 10 "most exceptional leaders" within the health service.

Stuart Bell was chosen by the Health Service Journal (HSJ) as one of the best NHS chief executives in the country.

He was first named in the HSJ's list of 50 chief executives 'doing an exceptional job of steering provider trusts', before their judging panel narrowed it down to their 10 preferred choices.

Stuart said: "While I am grateful to be recognised in this list, I note that the judges paid special attention to the staff survey question about whether staff would be happy for a friend or relative to be treated in their trust.

"I would therefore say that this is recognition is above else a testament to everyone who works hard to deliver a service they would be happy for their family and friends to receive."

Alastair McLellan, editor of HSJ, said: "Leading a provider trust is a mission which surely at times appears thankless, as does the pressing target to deliver outstanding care at reduced cost.

"The litmus test for judges was one particular question – the staff survey. Staff who would be happy for a friend or family member to be treated at the organisation at which they work."

Fire service set to strike, but every call will be dealt with OXFORDSHIRE'S deputy chief fire officer has reassured the public that the fire service will respond to every call during today's union strike.

Fire Brigades Union (FBU) members will strike for 24 hours from 9am over a national dispute over central government pension reforms.

Non-striking full-time personnel and on-call staff will provide cover, while there is an agreement with the FBU that striking members will return to duty if there is a serious incident.

Nathan Travis, deputy chief fire officer, said: "I want to reassure the county's public that every emergency call made to their Fire and Rescue Service during these scheduled strike periods will be responded to.

"We have a cover plan in place which we have utilised well during previous FBU-called strike periods."

Members of the public are also being urged to ensure their own safety.

The fire service advise people to check their smoke alarms are working and ensure electrical sockets are not overloaded.

Mr Travis added: "These are all easy but significant tasks that people can do to help ensure safety and I would encourage residents to carry them out."

Another strike has been scheduled for June 21.

Owain delighted to win national award

A NORTH Hinksey pub manager has been named as one of 30 young achievers in the country to win a national hospitality award.

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Owain Lloyd Jones, who runs The Fishes, was presented with an Acorn Award for hospitality at a ceremony in Hampshire on June 2.

Judges praised the 27-year-old manager for his strong vision and determination to succeed, as well as being impressed with what Owain had achieved in his career so far.

He joins big names such as chefs Marco Pierre White, Marcus Wareing and Michael Caines, who have also been recipients of the Acorn Award.

"I'm really proud to win an Acorn Award, which is a really massive thing in our industry, and hugely prestigious," said Owain.

"Advice from my father, who said I should do what I love for the rest of my life, started me out on this career path, and it's advice I've always appreciated.

"I love what I do and by working hard, taking advantage of all the opportunities that have come my way, and with the support of my family, I feel I have achieved a lot so far.

"Having this officially recognised is just fantastic though, I never expected to win anything as big as this."

Owain graduated from Oxford Brookes University in 2007 with a degree in hotel and restaurant management, and has worked at several pubs across the county including The Fleece in Witney and The James Figg in Thame.

Hamish Stoddart, co-founder of The Fishes' parent company Peach, said: "When Owain joined us from Oxford Brookes as a graduate trainee, we instantly felt he was a special character.

"He arrived with raw talent and an evident love of pubs but at that time not necessarily the skills to make a difference.

"Owain grabbed the opportunity to learn industry and restaurant knowledge, service skills and management ability, and he set about developing himself to acquire all of these skills."

Mr Stoddard added: "After continuing to take The Fishes from strength to strength, we hope he'll ultimately go on to run one of his own pubs or become a partner with us."

Dancing the night away

BALLROOM, jazz and contemporary dance comes together for a brand new show, coming to Oxford's New Theatre tomorrow night.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Dancers and groups from a range of backgrounds will be showing their skills as well as experimenting with other genres, as they blend their styles into one for a unique performance.

Strictly Come Dancing's Kevin Clifton and Karen Hauer provide the ballroom element of the evening, who will be performing alongside World Street Dance champions and Britain's Got Talent finalists Flawless.

They will be joined by Olivier award nominee Tommy Franzen, contemporary duo Alleviate and Irish fusion pairing Brosena.

"It's a challenge, and that's why me and Karen wanted to be a part of it really," Kevin said about the show.

"I think ballroom dancing can be in its own little corner of the dance world, and often doesn't really mix with other genres.

"So aside from it being a performance that involves us, we also saw it as a chance to learn and experience the styles ourselves. It is a challenge, but it's exciting."

As a result of numerous television shows, Kevin believes that dance is seeing a resurgence in popularity, giving shows like Flash Mob the opportunity to take place.

He added: "Nowadays you see 12million people watching ballroom dancing on a Saturday night, and everyone has an opinion on it now.

"They've all learned the dance terminology, and everyone knows what they're talking about now, whereas 10 years ago that would have been crazy."

Tomorrow's show begins at 7.30pm. Go to newtheatreoxford.org.uk.

• Performers will be blending their dance styles together for Flash Mob

Modern twist

STUDENTS from the City of Oxford College are performing a dance interpretation of Alice in Wonderland at the Pegasus Theatre tonight and tomorrow.

Wonderland sees students take on a variety of dance styles, including contemporary, jazz and ballet to bring the renowned story into the present day.

Both shows start at 7.30pm, and more details can be found at pegasustheatre.org.uk.

Radical poetry

A CELEBRATORY performance of radical poetry will be hosted by the Oxford Playhouse tomorrow.

The show sees a collaboration between poet Heathcote Williams and performer Roy Hutchins, as they give voice to some of history's most renowned writers, including Shakespeare, Blake, and Pussy Riot.

It starts at 5pm. For more information, go to oxfordplayhouse.com.

Andy Jordan

MUSICIAN Andy Jordan, best known for his role on E4's hit television series Made in Chelsea, comes to Oxford's O2 Academy on Saturday.

Doors open at 7pm, and further details are available at o2academyoxford.co.uk.

New album, new sound

OXFORD-BORN singer Lewis Watson is set to release his debut album 'The Morning' next week, ahead of a full UK tour taking place later this year.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Lewis has had a successful start to his music career, with his debut EP 'It's Got Four Sad Songs On It, BTW' topping the iTunes singer-songwriter chart on its first day of release in May 2012.

He followed that with four more EPs, starting with 'Another Four Sad Songs' In October of the same year.

In 2013 Lewis released a further three EPs, with 'The Wild', 'Four More Songs' and 'Some Songs With Some Friends' all receiving critical acclaim.

It led to the 21-year-old being offered a deal with Warner Bros. Records, culminating in the upcoming release of 'The Morning' on Monday.

"I'm not a fan of just repackaging old material," said Lewis. "The original EPs were meant to be work in progress and these versions are much more polished.

"I wanted people to be able to see the journey of me as an artist and the evolution of the songs.

"It's unorthodox, but I feel very lucky that I've had that opportunity."

The first single from the album, entitled 'Stay', was released on Monday, and takes Lewis's stripped-back guitar and voice roots to create a more textured sound.

'Stay' has already had well over 250,000 views on YouTube since the video was released last month, as well as more than 3,000 likes.

Before the video's release, Lewis asked fans to design pictures of his lyrics to be used in a real-time video, currently featured on his website.

For more information on Lewis's upcoming gigs, or to find about further details about 'The Morning', go to lewiswatsonmusic.com.

• Lewis Watson, who grew up in Bicester, releases his first album on Monday.

CATHOLIC RECUSANCY IN OXFORDSHIRE
"By Tony Hadland. Recusants were people who, after the Reformation, refused to conform to the Church of England. This talk reveals the secretive survival of Catholicism in Oxfordshire (including former North Berkshire). A surprising number of key events in English post-Reformation Catholic history happened in the area. Examples will be given of surviving records and source of further information.

ANHSO - OCEAN CIRCULATION AND CLIMATE - DR RENSKE GELDERLOOS
"The ocean plays a very important role in the Earth's climate system through storage and transport of heat, fresh water, and carbon. Dr Gelderloos will discuss the principle ocean circulation patterns and how they affect well known climatic phenomena such as El Niño and the hydrological cycle. Furthermore, as increasing greenhouse gas concentrations in the atmosphere affect the circulation in the ocean, this will feed back onto the climate system. Based on what we know about how the oceans affect the Earth's climate, what changes may we expect? Dr Gelderloos is a physical oceanographer interested in subpolar and polar oceans. After specializing in fluid dynamics during a BSc and MSc in Civil Engineering at the University of Twente (Netherlands), she studied deep water formation in the Labrador Sea at KNMI/University of Utrecht for her PhD. She now work as a Postdoctoral Research Associate at the Department of Earth Sciences, studying ocean dynamics in the Canadian Arctic."

WIN tickets to Cornbury!

FOLLOWING on from a memorable tenth anniversary year, the Cornbury Music Festival is promising another show of amazing live performances at the stunning Great Tew Estate over the weekend of 4th – 7th July.

As one of England's most civilised gatherings, the Festival is the summer hotspot for catching great music while hanging out with the Chipping Norton Set!

Friday features Dublin duo Hudson Taylor, perfect pop stars The Feeling, American troubadour Suzanne Vega, 'Mr Wendal' creators Arrested Development, beautiful pop diva Sophie Ellis-Bextor, and national treasure Jools Holland with special guests Melanie C and Marc Almond.

Saturday includes festival favourite Jon Allen, American blues travellers Reverend Peyton's Big Damn Band, New Jersey's Southside Johnny & the Asbury Jukes featuring Gary US Bonds, and chart topping Nina Nesbitt. The American invasion continues with Illinois rocker Lissie and Grammy-Award winning country new-girl Kacey Musgraves. Other artists include 60s icon Georgie Fame with Guy Barker's 16 piece big band, pop-hit makers Scouting for Girls, and Scottish rock legends Simple Minds.

Come Sunday, the festival goes pop with performances from X Factor 2013 winner Sam Bailey and finalist Luke Friend, and an eclectic cocktail of Caribbean flavoured Kid Creole & The Coconuts, 70s hit-makers 10cc and the Japanese Jeff Beck 'Kill Bill' theme tune writer Tomoyasu Hotei. Closing the festival on the Songbird Stage is Celtic fusion band Peatbog Faeries, and on the main stage the legendary Gipsy Kings winner of this year's Grammy for Best World Music Album.

Closing date:
Friday, June 27, 2014

And that's not all

The Festival has booked a great line-up of comedy stars including Al Murray and Jeremy Hardy. For younger festival goers there's the fantastic children's zone with countless activities along with an extensive fairground and giant Ferris wheel. And don't miss a visit to the Vintage mobile cinema which will be showing a mini short-film festival.

For more information including timetables for festival bus services to the site from Banbury and Charlbury stations and tickets go to cornburymusicfestival.com

We have 3 pairs of weekend tickets to this great festival to give away and to be in with a chance of winning all you have to do is answer this simple question:

Supermini praised for its style and running costs as it is named best small car for 2014

Top honours for Citroën DS3

• The Citroën DS3, the best small car for 2014 as voted by the What Car? JD Power Survey

A DRIVER satisfaction survey has named the Citroën DS3 as the best small car for 2014.

The French supermini, which launched in 2010, scored 79.3 per cent for the What Car? JD Power Survey 2014 satisfaction survey.

It means the car ranks 21 overall out of 109 models and scored two per cent over the average 77.3 per cent.

The model was praised for its style, running costs, driver visibility, and colour options.

Car owner Nick Baum, 44, said: "The DS3 never fails to put a smile on my face. It looks terrific, it's comfortable and it's quick; I went for the 1.6 VTi petrol motor.

"The DS3 has plenty of room for my three boys in the back, even with the driver's seat pushed all the way back to accommodate my long legs.

"Equipment levels are great, with auto lights and wipers, cruise control and a decent stereo that connects to the iPhone."

What Car? editor Jim Holder said: "DS3 has really established itself as an extremely desirable small car – its bold, fun and customisable styling sets it apart from its competitors."

REVIEW: Citroën DS3
By Timon Williams

The model was names best supermini in the 2013 survey.

Citroën UK's managing director Linda Jackson said: "To top its class for two successive years is a fantastic result for DS3 and it is all the more special to win an award that is voted for by owners themselves.

"Receiving such high praise for a variety of aspects, from styling to running costs, is testament to the DS3's versatility and desirability as it continues to impress across the board."

Going into next years What Car? JD Power Survey, competitors of the DS3 Citroën model seem to have a lot of catching up to do in both technological and aesthetic fields in order to knock the DS3 off its top spot.

The JD Power survey took place between January and March 2014, using cars registered between January 2011 and December 2012.

Only models with more than 4,000 sales were considered - 109 in total.

Burnell salutes his 'fantastic' Dragons

HEAD coach Justin Burnell hailed his "fantastic" team after London Welsh beat Bristol Rugby to clinch a place in next season's Aviva Premiership.

The Dragons went into the second leg of the final with a 27-8 lead, ultimately securing an emphatic 48-28 aggregate win.

Burnell's side will now face the likes of Leicester Tigers, Northampton Saints and Saracens in the top flight of English rugby.

"It's just fantastic for London Welsh, it's a fantastic club," said Burnell.

"How good is that going to be in Oxford and for the supporters – Premiership rugby.

"I'm absolutely over the moon."

Initially the Exiles faced tough opposition with tries from Andy Short, Mitch Eadie and Adam Hughes, reducing their lead to eight points.

Despite the intense pressure from Bristol, James Tideswell and Seb Stegmann crossed late on to ensure an immediate Premiership return for Welsh.

Veteran fly half Gordon Ross did well to convert Stegmann's try to give the Exiles a 21-20 victory at the Memorial Stadium.

By Timon Williams

news@oxfordjournal.co.uk

Burnell added: "Bristol have been a very, very good side all year.

"We were constantly reminded that there would be 12,000 people screaming and shouting, but we had to shut that noise out and worry about ourselves.

"We weathered the storm for the first 20-30 minutes and then dug in and went up another gear."

He continued: "What you find with London Welsh is we haven't really got any marquee signings or superstars.

"What we've got is a massive collective approach.

"If you work hard you get rewards. That's our environment and that's what we thrive on.

"People who now come into our environment now have to fit into what we're about."

Barkley eager to help Exiles in Premiership

FORMER England fly half Olly Barkley said he cannot wait to "get stuck in" after joining newly promoted London Welsh this week.

The 32-year-old, who has 23 international caps, became head coach Justin Burnell's first signing since the Exiles won promotion back to the Aviva Premiership.

Barkley joins Welsh after a four-month spell with the Scarlets.

"There looks to be a spirit amongst the group that I can't wait to be involved with," he said.

"I'm looking forward to getting stuck in to the challenge of the Premiership with them all, and helping the club further establish itself at the Kassam Stadium and in Oxford."

Burnell said Barkley was "exactly the type of player" he had been looking for.

He added: "He's got a fantastic game understanding and his other biggest strong point is his accuracy with the ball.

"His goal kicking is phenomenal and we'll need that in the Aviva Premiership."

Tristan Roberts, Nick Reynolds and Chris Elder have all also signed for the Exiles.

Meanwhile, the Dragons have been drawn with Edinburgh Rugby, Bordeaux Begles and Lyon in Pool 5 of the European Rugby Challenge Cup.

Battling Plato on the podium in Cheshire

BRITISH Touring Car Championship driver Jason Plato secured a podium at Cheshire's Oulton Park circuit last Sunday.

Plato put in a strong performance in qualifying that saw him come second with a time of 1:42.959, only marginally missing out on pole.

In race one, Plato struggled to compete against his rear-wheel drive rivals, but a determined drive landed him third place.

"There's meant to be performance parity, but once again the rear-wheel drive cars streaked ahead at the start and into the distance," said Plato.

In warmer conditions in the afternoon, race two provided an interesting battle between Plato and Audi A4 driver Rob Austin when they levelled on the third lap, although Plato was unable to pass.

Instead, he took the approach to defend against Gordon Shedden in the Honda and settled for fourth.

Race three saw Plato force his way past Rob Collard's BMW for fourth before passing Turkington to secure third place.

But after the race he was handed a 1.5 second penalty for the collision with Collard and was moved back to fourth.

Plato now turns his focus to Croft, North Yorkshire, on June 29.

LONDON Welsh returned to the Aviva Premiership at the first time of asking last week, beating Bristol Rugby 48-28 on aggregate in an emphatic two-legged final.

HYLTON SIGNS

Striker pens two-year deal with Oxford

OXFORD United's new signing Danny Hylton says he cannot wait to be a part of the club's promotion plans next season.

The 25-year-old striker penned a two-year-deal with the club last week after being released from newly promoted Sky Bet Championship side Rotherham United.

Hylton is reunited with head coach Gary Waddock, with whom he enjoyed a successful spell with at Aldershot Town.

He scored 48 goals in 139 appearances as the Shots won promotion into the Football League in 2008.

By Jack Johnson

jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

However, he was unable to break into the Rotherham side last year, after joining the Millers in the summer, and was loaned out to Sky Bet League Two sides Bury and AFC Wimbledon.

"It has been a frustrating time at Rotherham," he said.

"I am really pleased to join Oxford on a permanent basis.

"I have played against them a number of times and know it's an ambitious club with good players and I am really looking forward to it.

"I enjoyed working with Gary Waddock at Aldershot and I played some of the best football of my career under him.

"His sides work hard for each other and play good football and I can't wait to be part of that next season."

The striker is Waddock's first signing of the summer and the United boss is confident that Hylton will hit the ground running at the Kassam Stadium.

"Danny has a great attitude and wants to show what he can do again," said Waddock.

"He maybe has a point to prove and is hungry to do well here."

Earlier this week, United announced they will play Championship club AFC Bournemouth in a pre-season friendly at the Kassam on August 2.

Waddock's side will also host second tier side Wolves on July 29.
